			<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The Data Quality Dashboard is live in 18 forces with the remaining forces scheduled over the coming 3 months. • The dashboard will be run quarterly. • We are working with the HMICFRS to use the results of the dashboard within the existing PEEL inspection regime. Specifics are currently being working through. This will support accountability for data at a force level. • As we can provide each force with the URNs of the data that has failed, they are able to target any data improvements based on the information we provide. This is forming the basis of comms plans internally to promote the value of data and individual responsibilities for the quality of what is input. • Forces are also able to identify patterns of behaviour and support has been given to understand the root causes of DQ issues. Forces are considering technical and cultural options to improve the quality of data at the point of creation. For example – using a gazetteer to enhance the accuracy and completeness of address data. • The HO has also developed a Data Quality Maturity Model which allows a force to understand how mature they are – this has been used by forces to form the basis of their Information Management Strategy and supports a more proportionate approach to the management and use of police data.
